

Happy 4 Years of Seeing you, URVASHii!

We will be counting more and more, until our last breathe!

LOVE, YASWI

A vertical watercolor floral border on the left side of the page, featuring pink and red flowers with green leaves and stems. The border is decorated with a faint grid pattern.

My Dearest Kaku,

Four years ago, on 21 October 2020, everything changed for me when I first saw you. From that moment, my life began to move in a direction I never imagined, and then on 17 February 2022, we officially started our beautiful journey together. As we approach three years of being in a relationship next year, I can't help but reflect on all the ups and downs we've faced.

A horizontal watercolor floral border at the bottom of the page, featuring pink and red flowers with green leaves and stems. The border is decorated with a faint grid pattern.

This past year, in particular, has been a challenging one, and I know I haven't always been able to give you the "princess treatment" that you so truly deserve. Through all of it, you've never wavered—you've stood by my side, supporting me in my hardest moments. I've been feeling stressed and even depressed for the past few months, but your love has been my greatest strength. You've given me hope when I felt lost and made me feel stronger when I was at my weakest.

Your love means everything to me, and as we move toward completing our third year together, I promise to work towards making our life even better, just like you've always deserved. Here's to our journey, and to a brighter future together. Let's work on us, especially on me, and make things better, as we aim to build a brighter, happier future together before we hit our three-year milestone next year.

